

Carbarup Road, KENDENUP, WA 6323

Discover Your Elevated Escape in Kendenup

9.64 hectares, 23.82 acres

Tucked along Carbarup Road, this 9.64-hectare block has that classic country feel. Open pasture, big skies, and views rolling all the way to the Porongurups and the Mount Barker tower.

Sitting on gently rising ground, the block offers an elevated position that's ideal for anyone looking to build an off-grid getaway or a simple rural base where the scenery does the talking.

Currently used for cropping Veldt grass and a bit of hay, it's a clean, workable piece of country that lends itself to hobby farming, grazing, or just enjoying the wide-open landscape.

A down-to-earth country holding with postcard views, ready for someone with a vision and a love for the simple life.
