functionality. Currently powered by a generator, the infrastructure is in place and ready for a solar power system, making it an ideal opportunity for buyers looking to embrace an off-grid lifestyle.

The land has been thoughtfully set up for livestock and sustainable living, divided into six paddocks with all perimeter fencing recently replaced. Whether you're running a few animals, establishing a hobby farm or simply enjoying the space and freedom that acreage living provides, the groundwork has already been done.

Positioned to capture sweeping views across the surrounding paddocks, the home enjoys a wonderfully private setting where you can enjoy the sounds of nature and the beauty of the countryside. With ample room for animals, gardens and future improvements, this property offers endless possibilities for those seeking a more connected and self-reliant way of life.

Whether you're searching for a peaceful rural escape, a self-sufficient lifestyle property or a charming country home with modern updates, this unique South Greenough offering delivers character, privacy and opportunity in equal measure.

Properties that combine acreage, charm and off-grid potential are increasingly rare-don't miss your chance to secure this special slice of country paradise.
