The success with which this evocative period property was expanded and extended is immediately, irresistibly evident throughout a series of spaces that ensure a wonderful Longford lifestyle.

A romantic driveway creates an unforgettable introduction for a residence featuring a sympathetic mix of traditional character and tempting modern dimensions, evenly divided across a floor-plan that provides each space with a zone of its own.

Flexible rooms for living, dining and entertaining that are rich in personality and welcoming in their proportions are complemented by a well-designed kitchen and an everyday meals area or breakfast room that conveys a conservatory mood and looks out across gorgeous established gardens and grounds. Stone benches, integrated Miele appliances and ample storage illustrate the kitchen's user-friendliness, also enhanced by a leafy aspect.

Five bedrooms, including a majestic main bedroom with a substantial walk-in robe and stylish ensuite in a wing accompanied by a romantic verandah, offer ideal family accommodation arranged over two levels that feature two upstairs bedrooms and a large, versatile study or retreat.

Natural light, original details, effective heating/cooling, efficient solar panels, secure garaging and gorgeous areas for outdoor enjoyment further distinguish and define this exceptional property.

Serene, secluded yet merely moments from Longford's town centre shops, cafes, parks, the primary school and highway access for a quick, convenient commute to Launceston.
